

Education Network EN

SLOW FOOD EDUCATION NETWORK

Slow Food's network on Education involves thousands of people around the world: teachers, trainers, cooks, and producers who strive every day to educate children, youth, consumers, and food professionals about good, clean, and fair food.

In order to be able to suggest activities consistent with your interests and connect you with similar experiences, we would love to get to know you better!

 Required